

Activity

1. Find out more about one of the approaches that sounds interesting in this feature.
2. Go to the organisation's website or ring up the organisation and ask them to send out information or resources.
3. Perhaps do a search on the internet for something as broad as 'dance and dementia' and see where it leads you!
4. Let other members of your staff team know about what you have found out – share what you have learned in a team meeting.
