Bruce Lodge – John and Roy

Transcript

[Lisa Martin talks to an off-camera interviewer about John and Roy's partnership at Bruce Lodge]

Lisa Martin: So John who lives here at Bruce Lodge is a very intellectual gentleman, and I say the word gentleman because that's really the essence of what he's about. So what we did was we matched John with Roy, who was actually a housekeeper, because Roy is also very calmly and pleasantly spoken, the same as John. And they also both have a great interest in cards and dominos, and those kind of games really, and quizzes. So we matched them two together because we thought personality wise they would be very well matched and also they have key things of interest, which is quizzes, dominos, cards and music as well, they both enjoy the same kind of music. So that's why we matched them together.
