What the session is about	What is it like for young people who are living in environments that can adversely affect their learning, development and well-being? In this session we will explore children in need, family dynamics and history and how these can be hidden from schools but have a significant impact on a child's ability to learn.	Myth Busting! Children do not come into care because they are 'bad kids'. This session is all about understanding the real reasons that children come into care, taking a look at neglect, abuse and generational patterns within families.	The day they come into care is one that young people do not forget. In this workshop we hear the reality of a young person's journey into care, the changes in their norms, the immediate differences in lifestyle and the impact of this through authentic lived accounts.

Thank you to all the groups and individuals who have worked hard and fast to enable Co-production Week England 2020 to take place – your response has been amazing!

We would also like to acknowledge all the people who would have liked to organise an event this year, but have been affected by the pandemic in ways which sadly have made this impossible - we hope you will still be able to take part in some way.
