

Learning from the Macmillan Local Authority Partnership Programme

Published: March 2019

Annex 1: Evaluation of MLAPP

A formative evaluation of MLAPP is being conducted by SQW in partnership with SCIE, with the aim of understanding the processes and decisions involved in establishing the programme, the assets needed to form the partnerships, the local authority context and the barriers and enablers experienced within and across sites. The evaluation will be completed later in 2019. The evaluation is theory-driven using a theory of change model developed by the Tavistock Institute (see below).

There are also individual models for the programme activities taking place at different levels, which include activities and outputs and associated outcomes.
