Project method

Action on capacity describes a series of direct/indirect actions, training and resource development to improve the understanding of Mental Capacity, its application in practice and monitoring of practice in the acute environment. The work has focused on improving knowledge of clinical staff to support the most vulnerable adults within the organisation.

Project results/evaluation

The campaign has provided a useful resource to staff what to consider when completing MCA. Tools are well located and available to all staff.

Feedback from staff is that the tools are useful especially the credit card sized guides.
